

Rev. Bunny Alexander

A Charlotte native, Bunny and was a member of First Presbyterian, graduated from Queens College and received her Masters of Divinity at Union Theological Seminary in Virginia.

She and her husband, Lewis Galloway, are ordained PCUSA ministers. After serving in congregational ministry for a few years, Bunny trained and became a Fellow in the American Association of Pastoral Counselors. With the support of 4 Presbyterian churches in Columbia, S.C., she founded a pastoral counseling center and was a therapist for 30 years. She enjoyed being a generalist, working with all ages from small children to the elderly and addressing all kinds of emotional issues.

She and Lewis have 3 grown children (including Robert Galloway) and 2